Express Your Genius With qPCR

We just wanted to inform you about an upcoming event, taking place on the 21-22 May at the Hotel Fort Canning, Singapore. The meeting is entitled Advances in qPCR and dPCR and boasts an international speaker line-up of the leading names within the field.

Our Founder Prof. Mikael Kubista is a Keynote Speaker for the event and we will also be hosting a one day Training Course entitled

“How to optimize the performance and reliability of qPCR analyses”

As a Key Partner for the meeting, we are able to offer you a 20% Discount against your registration if you would like to attend. To take advantage of these savings please input the following Coupon Code AQPCR20 which can be redeemed within the payment section in the checkout process.
